Dear Mr Bracic,

RE: Application for Accelerated Review of Preserved or Prepared Tomatoes by PMC SRL

I refer to your correspondence of 29 August 2014.

I can advise that Anti-Dumping Notice 2014/74 (ADN 2014/74) was published on the Anti-Dumping Commission (the Commission) electronic public record on 4 September 2014. This ADN and accompanying Consideration Report 262 (CON 262) states that I have considered the application lodged by your client, PMC SRL and found that it meets the requirements of section 269ZF of the Customs Act 1901 (the Act). Relevant interested parties including the European Union have been advised that the Commission is undertaking an accelerated review and have been directed to these publications.

In considering your clients application, I have decided to require securities to be taken under section 269ZH(b) of the Act for any imports exported from your client since the date of the application, 25 July 2014.

As specified in your letter, subsection 269ZH provides that no interim duty can be collected from PMC SRL in respect of goods entered for home consumption following the lodgement of an application.

I note that Australian Customs and Border Protection data indicates

[REDACTED]. [Confidential Company Information]

[REDACTED], importers who can demonstrate their bona fide relationship to your client may obtain the relevant Dumping Security Number (DSN) from the Commission to ensure that securities are collected.

As you are aware there are no statutory timeframes for my consideration of an application for accelerated review. I acknowledge that there has been a delay when compared to previous applications, in the publication of my decision. I do not consider that the delay has adversely impacted on your clients ability to participate in the accelerated review process.

If you have any further concerns regarding this accelerated review, please contact Ms Kerry Taylor, Director Operations Team 4 on (03) 9244 8844 or operatons4@adcommission.gov.au

Yours sincerely

Dale Seymour
